Ashley McGraw hosts Liverpool CSD High School students

On Friday, February 12, Ashley McGraw Architects hosted 16 high school students from Liverpool Central School District as part of the District's Partners in Education program. The interactive morning included 3 different sessions for the students: a career in architecture overview, the marketing of an architectural firm and how to engage the community for a capital project vote, and asking their thoughts and suggestions on the District's proposed Phase 3 Capital Project. We gained a lot of insight and heard some great ideas! Thank you again to Liverpool Central School District for allowing us to host the program and students. Read more
